JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

THE RECONSTRUCTION FRAUD.

The liberty of action allotted the citizens of Mississippi, Texas and Virginia, under this latest reconstructive measure, is simply no liberty at all; however their votes may be cast, there is but one way in which they will be counted, and that to the direct and exclusive advantage of the Radical party. We do not say but that the citizens of those States may fairly defeat the entire instruments, known as "constitutions," that are to be submitted, or any portions thereof, in case of a divided submission; nor do we say but that they may fairly elect any Governor, Legislatures, State officers, or Federal Representatives that they may nominate. Indeed, we do believe that by their superior political skill they will carry their policy, whatever it may be, at the polls. But what of that? The second section of this reconstruction cheat reads:

And be it further enacted, That the proceedings in any of the said States shall not be deemed final, or operate as a complete restoration thereof, until their action respectively shall be approved by Congress.

Now, as nothing to be final, or operate as a complete restoration, until approved by Congress, it is to be the Congressional approval, and not the popular act in any or all of these three States, that is to do the work. Will Congress approve the defeat of the so-called constitutions in whole or in part, or the election of a Conservative Governor, or of a Legislature that will not ratify the negro equality amendment, or of Democratic Representatives, United States Senators, or State officers? We trow not. He who thinks so is wilfully blind to the temper and a upidly ignorant of the record of that body.

Alabama and Arkansas defeated their bogus constitutions, and yet those instruments were unblushingly declared carried. Georgia elected two persons of respectability to be United States Senators, and their admission was, and is, shamelessly and fradulently denied. Louisiana elected a full Democratic delegation to the Forty-first Congress, and not one of the number has been, or will be, admittrd. South Carolina presented a mixed delegation, and the misrepresentatives were taken and the representatives left. Mississippi, Texas, and Virginia have, within these few weeks past, seen every single one of their State officers ejected by an act of Congress, which bases the right to hold State office on a pledged adherence to Radical interests. These are things that are of record, and not to be denied. The Times dare not for its reputation deny them, or any of them; and yet it would persuade the citizens of these three outlying States that their will, as expressed at the ballot box, is to be the law. Why, this very seventh section we have quoted gives a point-blank contradiction to such a view. It is expressly stated that not the ballot box, but the Congressional approval, is to decide all that there is to be decided. Let the vote go as it will, NOTHING is to stand until Congress be willing to have it stand. What the citizens of these States may do under these circumstances is for them to say; but this abominable system of fraud shall not go before them without at least one voice of protestation, exposure and warning.

It is the fixed purpose of the Radical majority in Congress to admit no Senator or Representative from the South that will not act and vote with that majority. In every single case where a seat is now contested, the Radical contestant is to be sworn in; and to any future election the same rule is to apply. The five contested Louisiana seats, the one in South Carolina, and the six seats to be filled from Alabama, the seven from Georgia, the five from Mississippi, the four from Texas, and the eight from Virginia, are to be settled on the single principle that none but Radicals need apply.—N. Y. World.

WHAT A COTTON MILL COSTS.

Col. Palmer, President of the Vaucluse Manufacturing Co. in his paper read before the Agricultural Society, made an estimate of the cost of erecting a cotton factory.—The total expense of erecting a factory with 4,000 spindles, including houses for operatives, he estimates at $50,000. Such a factory would employ 87 operatives and consume 837 bales of cotton annually. The net profits would amount to $17,000 or 34 per cent. on the cost.

If his figures are correct, there are few investments more profitable. And in addition to the direct profits, there are numerous indirect gains, which are shared by the whole community in the vicinity of such factories. The gathering together of a number of operatives, who must be fed, clothed and supplied with fuel, furniture, &c., will furnish a market for many articles of home production which otherwise would be of little value. Would it not be well for persons having surplus means to look into this matter and see whether a stock company can be formed, for the establishment of a cotton factory in this country?—Yorkville Enquirer.

JOSH BILLINGS IN THE EDITOR'S CHAIR.

His Answers to Correspondents.

Fred—You ain't obliged to ask a gal's mother if you ma go home with her from a partee; get the gal's endorsement, and go in; it is proper enough to ask her to take yure arm, but yu hain't got no rite to put yure arm around her waist, unless yu meet a bear on the rode, and then yu are bound to take yure arm away jest as soon as the bear gets safely by.

Whip—Yu are rite; mules live to a long agee; I've known them myself to live one hundred yeer, and not half-tri. Yu are also rite about their being sure footed; I've known them to kick a boy twice in a second, ten feet oph.

Gertrude—Yure inquiry stumps me.—The more I think on it the more I can't tell. As near as I can rekolek now I think I don't know. Much mite be said both ways, and neither way be rite. Upon the whole, I rather think I would, or I wuldent, jest as I thought best or otherwise.

Plutark—Yu're mistaken; the Shakers don't marry. If young Shakers fall in luv tha are sot to wedding onions, and kures them forthwithly. I kant tell you how much it dus kost to jine the Shakers, but I believe the expenze used to be, inkluding having yure hair cut and larning how to danse, about $65.

Sportman—Yure inquiry is not egnectly in mi line but I haste to repli as follers, to-wit: The rite length to ent oph a dog's tail has never yet been fully discovered, but it is undoubtedly somewhe bak of his ears, provided you get the dogs consent.—N. B.—It ain't absolutely necessary say the dog's consent should be in writing.

TERRIBLE FAMINE IN THE NORTH OF EUROPE.—Advices by mail from the countries on the Baltic sea tell of a terrible and widely extended famine now existing there. A letter says that the distress is indescribable. From the 23rd of May to the 18th of August, last year, no rain fell, and the summer crops were scorched. Bread can now be scarcely got, even at the most exorbitant prices, and, as the roads are impassible by reason of the extraordinary wet weather, no help from abroad can reach the people. The debilitated condition of the population, and their heading together in the larger villages, in the hope of getting food and shelter, has engendered disease, which is making fearful ravages.—Baltimore Sun.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

TUESDAY, MAY 11, 1869.

THE MEMORIAL CEREMONIES.

Yesterday was a lovely, balmy, mellow day. Our city, with its beautiful rows of shade trees presented an unusually attractive appearance. The sky was clear, nature was serene, everything was propitious for the tender, solemn services that were to take place at 4½ o'clock, P. M. An hour or more before that time had arrived, ladies and gentlemen began to wend their way to the cemetery of the dead, where lie "in their narrow cells" the heroes of our dear "Lost Cause." The gathering was large; the ceremonies were simple and touching. Mr. G. H. Snow, in appropriate remarks, announced the object of such an assemblage in such a place. Rev. H. T. Hudson, pastor of the M. E. Church, next offered to the God of the living and the dead an impressive and tasteful prayer. Mr. Fabius Busbee, in stirring and happy words, introduced the speaker, Maj. W. M. Robbins, of Salisbury.

The speaker then for some half hour held spell bound a large and interested audience. We saw strong men weeping under the incantation of his oratory.

We do not know that we ought to express all we think of this effort. We give it to our readers in this issue and they can judge for themselves as to its appropriateness and excellence. We prefer generally to read a production after we have heard it, especially when it is delivered on an occasion like that of yesterday when our heart is made unusually tender by the sad associations of the day, and when "memory wakes with all her busy train." Loving North Carolina, our native State, with an ardor only known to those in whom local attachments are strongly developed; being one of those who held with nearly all of our people that our greivances were many and great, and our cause precious and just, we gloried in the unsurpassed heroism and endurance, and pluck and devotion of our soldiery; feeling a manly pride in the general good name of our people, and remembering so acutely what our brave defenders had borne, and suffered and dared for truth and right and liberty, we were possibly too impressible to judge Major Robbins' effort with that candid and well-poised decision which we might be able to do under less affecting circumstances, when we could sit calmly down and measure deliberately the structure of his sentences and the character of his utterances.

We make these remarks, because if we were to write now as we felt then, a severer and less sensitive criticism might deny the correctness of our taste or the wisdom of our dictum. We will trust ourself however, to write this, and we think every open and conscientious man will echo the opinion.—It was excellently conceived and admirably delivered. His diction had the genuine dash about it—that elan our boys in gray so often displayed when in serried ranks and with that never to be forgotten Confederate yell, they went at the enemy with an impetuosity that was wholly irresistible. The sentiments throughout were manly, just, elevated, appropriate and touching. No true man from the North who had delivered battle against our fallen braves would have objected to the noble spirit of this eloquent address if he had been present.

We venture the opinion that Generals Sherman and Hancock, and Ewell and McClellan, would have felt a kindred glow of enthusiastic pride if they had stood among the graves of the Confederate fallen on yesterday, and remembering that they too were American citizens, would have honored that patriotism in a conquered people that could still love the memories of, and do honor to, their sacred dead.

"No! no! no! they were brave for us
And bright were the lives they gave for us;
The land they struggled to save for us
Cannot forget
Its warriors yet
Who sleep in so many a grave for us."

After the address our fair gentlewomen, some of whom mourned a husband, or brother or son, who had breathed out their souls amid the fiery pangs of war—these the truest and best of our race, then with floral tributes decorated the graves of the dead heroes. May the memories of our grand soldiery be ever green! May it be long, many long years to come, before our mothers and maidens shall fail to lay annually these richly scented offerings of love upon the graves of the dear one's who fell for us, and for human liberty.

Surely it is a beautiful and pleasing sight to behold matronly dignity and sunny hearted youth standing amid the graves of hero sleepers, and adorning the last resting place of such victors of a hundred fights with their votive offerings, and with pious care. Upon each recurring Tenth of May let the wives and daughters of North Carolina make garlands of flowers and lay them gently upon the graves of the fallen who "slumber in glory undying:" and with the perfume of flowers may there ascend to the God of victory and of peace, the pure incense of prayer for blessings upon the wives and children, the mothers and sisters of those who sleep in consecrated ground.

"Your dust is with us, and upon the grave
Which keeps it, we have come again to strew,
Memorial flowers—all that ye had ye gave
For us—'tis little, loved ones, we can give to you."

These gallant men had been reared among a people who had taught them the doctrine of blood and convulsion through which our English ancestors had passed, before the bright guerdon of liberty was wrested from the mailed hand of oppression. They had heard of the stormy debates and secret conclaves that had been held that the spirit of liberty might be forever crushed. They had been told from lisping childhood of the fields of carnage, and the glory-lost plots of hero martyrs who had died in vindication of the rights of man. With them, as Dryden says, "The love of liberty with life was given." Thus nurtured and tutored, they rushed to arms at their country's call, and clung for four long, panting years of tribulation to that cause which they held as sacred, as the mother clings to her child through peril and storm.

And is it strange that North Carolinians should have thus acted? Was it not in our own mountain fastnesses and by our sounding shores that the nymph Liberty was nurtured? Let Mecklenburg and New Hanover answer. The one gave the first declaration of rights, the other the first exhibition of an overt act of resistance to the British crown. It was this blessed nymph who breathed into our hardy soldiery such steady courage, such a burning enthusiasm, such an indomitable will: it was this nymph Liberty who found in our patriot soldiery her chosen, her noblest champions. It was this nymph that stood by them and saw them fall at last amid the thickest of the fight. It is in part the influence of this nymph that carried our best and truest to the "Gods-acre" on yesterday, where our soldiers sleep so quietly "in the alabaster arms of death," and caused gentle hands to lay the sweet floral decorations upon their graves.

Ah! that nymph still lives among our people. Her beautiful tresses are somewhat dishevelled; her fair, sweet face still bears some of the marks of the violence of the long exhausting conflict through which she and her dauntless boys in gray together passed, but still she survives and dwells among us. To-day Hope may not sit upon her helmet singing as merry a song as it once did, and still waving its golden hair, nor the battle-light of victory may not flash from her eye, as in days that are gone, but she still lives; and will live among us, when she has no defenders elsewhere—when she has shaken forever from her sandals the dust of other thoroughfares.

But we are not disloyal. We are true to the government of the Union as any man in it. We are sincerely a friend to our whole country. We cheerfully obey the laws and bear our part of the public burdens. We thank God that we have peace. But before we forget the glorious deeds of our immortal dead; before we say one word to asperse their memories or do aught to rob them of those triumphant laurels and eternal fame which they purchased by their own hearts' blood, may our tongue forever cleave to the roof of our mouth and our right hand forget its cunning.

We repeat, we are profoundly grateful that after war we have peace; that after so much intense excitement and suffering we now have so much comparative tranquility and concord. May they forever continue! We may not have all we desire, but still there is a wonderful contrast between five years ago and the present. As Herodotus says: "Now no longer the old bury the young, but the young once more bury the old."

"Grim visaged war hath smoothed his wrinkled front,"

and Peace, sweet, cheerful, bright eyed, halcyon Peace smiles once more upon us.—The plough share of war has given place to the plough-share of the husbandman; the spear of the soldier has been beaten into the pruning hook of the reaper; the savage implements of the battle field have been changed into the glad implements of industry. No longer do sad and silent funeral trains bear gallant captains to the grave, but in their stead, long processions of our loviest maidens annually visit the home of our sleeping heroes to lay with weeping eyes their memorials of gratitude and love upon the early dead.

We close our reflections suggested by yesterday's ceremonies with a stanza from the Ode, sung in Raleigh two years ago at the Memorial Celebration, and which was written by the best female poet of our State, Mrs. Mary Bayard Clarke:

"Keep tears for the nation that, vanquished and ruined,
Can lay o'er its heroes no tablets of stone,
But buries them all in the true heart of woman,
Who honors the nameless as well as the known;
And makes every year this fragrant ovation
In mem'ry of Jackson, the tenth of each May,
As with roses which bloomed when the hero-day dying,
She scatters the graves of his comrades that day."

P. S.—We expected to have published Maj. Robbins' address to day. Its length, and the lateness of the hour at which the copy was received, will prevent us from doing so. We may possibly publish a few extracts hereafter.

Special dispatch to the World.

St. Louis, May 7.—To-day Gen. Bacon Montgomery left for New Orleans to arrange for the transportation of a fighting expedition to Cuba, under General Joe Shelby.—Montgomery was a Union general and Shelby a Confederate officer. They are working in concert, and can control twenty thousand men.

London, May 7.—There have been several heavy robberies of arms, ammunition, &c., in various parts of Ireland during the past few days. At Belfast a large quantity of arms were stolen last evening. Five persons were arrested this morning on suspicion. Dispatches from Cork mention the perpetration of similar outrages. There seems to be no doubt that the culprits belong, in every instance, to the Fenian organization. The police have been ordered to exercise unusual vigilence.

Fight with Gen. Early.—On Saturday last Gen. Jubal A. Early refused to recognize Mr. R. H. Glass, who called upon and spoke to him. To the question of Mr. Glass as to whether it was intended as an insult, Gen. Early replied affirmatively, and was at once struck by Mr. Glass, who was in turn knocked down by Gen. Early.—Bristol (Va.) News.

The losses by fire in the United States during April 1869, where the property destroyed amounted to $20,000 or upwards, are estimated at $3,880,000, against $2,800,000 in April, 1868.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON DOG BIT.

Holden and Brownlow were rich alike in their vituperation of the late President; they were false alike in their falsome flattery of him. The President made Holden Provisional Governor of North Carolina, and Brownlow's son a Captain of horse, in the United States army. In 1862 Holden said "Abbot Lawrence had bought Andy Johnson to the Federal side and paid down 1,000 dollars for him." In 1865 Holden takes the Governorship of North Carolina, under the President, and then his paper abounds in his praise. In 1868 Holden telegraphed, "there is no peace or security in the South except by the impeachment and removal of the President." But to make a long story short and show how the President was dog bit, we copy the 95th fable of Æsop:

"The Man Bitten by a Dog.—A man bitten by a dog was going about asking who could cure him. One that met him said, sir, if you would be cured take a bit of bread and dip it in the blood of the wound and give it to the dog that bit you." The man smiled and said, if I were to follow your advice, I should be bitten by all the dogs in the city.

Moral—He who proclaims him ready to buy up his enemies will never want a supply of them."

When President Johnson gave bread to these two curs who had bitten him, every dog in the nation snapped at him.

FORNEY ON HIS TRAVELS.

Everybody who reads newspapers has heard of Forney—Colonel Forney. He is the same disreputable fellow who figured so largely many years ago in the Edwin Forrest trial. He is now a marvellously proper man with Radicalism. He runs two papers—one in Washington and one in Philadelphia. We published the other day an article about him which we clipped from a Harrisburg, Penn., paper. It represented him as cruel and vindictive towards the South. He is just that class of Northern men to whom honest and independent Southern men will never take. He is vile, unscrupulous, mendacious, and vengeful. He is as well-known North as he is South. A paper before us, published in Baltimore, says:

"Forney, if we recollect aright, wanted, soon after the war, to send three additional columns of "Northern travel" to the Southern States—one to burn, one to slay, and one to confiscate. Perhaps the reason the South looks so woe begone now is, that this programme was not carried out. However, let us not despair of the future.—Where the carcass is, the buzzards will in due time be gathered together, of which the southward flight of the advance guard, Forney & Co., gives hopeful augury."

This Forney is writing letters for his papers. We have not read any of his lucubrations, and only met with the following extract which we find quoted in an exchange. It occurs, as we are informed, in one of his letters written from Wilmington. This clever humbug says:

"We feel, as we advance, how much the South has suffered from the absence of Northern travel during the last fifty years."

"A little civet good apothecary!" If Forney is not a "cool" one, where will you find such a specimen? That is the most impudent sentence Forney ever penned, and he has penned many a one. It is beyond all comparison the sauciest piece of downright irony we ever read. We cannot do justice to the subject, so we hand him over to our friend of the Wilmington Journal.

For the Sentinel.

Chapple Hill in the new county of Swain, Fourth day of May.

Josiah Turner, Esq.—Sur: You hev not anserd my last letter, nur tuck a dog's notice ov me sense it was writ, an the Kew Klux mout of rolled me into pankakes, sept me in sorrygum molasses an awaltered me tectotally up for all the help you hev giv me. Ive come into the new county now, and I wish you to no that when you git elected agin I will use my influence with the hed boss of the Stait to hev you set aside again, bekase you didn't anser my fust letter. I want you to no that no man kin pass my letters by with impertunity. Thats about all Ive got to say, an I feel better sense Ive sed it. But I must not knucklude without letting ov you no how Billy Barlow cum to be in this semination of larnin, an cum to reach this pitch of human nater.

Well, arter I got that notice from the Kew Klux, an no anser cum to my letter, says I, "Billy," says I, "you are a ded sucker et you don't cum ester this scrape some how; but whats to be dun?" Says the ole lady, "Billy, you put on sum of my close so the kew klux wont no you, and go to Graham an insolt with Mr. Badham about this here matter. He is an uncommon smart chap, an I be kin git you outn it sum how." says I, "good sig old mammy! Fetch the close." But then cum the tub.—I am a most commercitul high feller, an the old lady she are uncommon low; an then the close was all too little round the waist; so I tried em all on but I cou'dn't git nothin to go but a long bed gown, an my laigs stuck out about three foot, from the bottom of hir. But I put on a bonnet and ketched my critter and started for Graham. Well I got thar a leetle arter night and when I nocked at Mr. Badham's door I felt uncommon awkerd so I pulled the tail ov the darned old gown over my face to sorter hide like. Mr. Badham was powerful skeerud when he seen me, bevin tuk me for a kew kluk; but when I spoke an tole my bisness he was as perlite as ever I seen him, but he sorter riled me a laffin at that dad-blamed ole bed-gown. So he advised me to go to Chapple Hill an put myself under the perfection of the kernel of melish which lives thar, an he would call out the tailed melishy to take care ov me.

Well when I got here the kernel told me that callin out the tailed melishy wouldn't pay, that it would letch on another war, and he would be the fust man killed, so I mout go to grass for him. Says I, "kernel, what shall I do? I am darsen to go back to Alamance, the kew kluk will kill me." Says he, "I'll tell you what, jine collidge; you nedenter to afeard of that law, the Guvner will hev it fix'd; we are heedin of students enty how, an you can go to school for nuthin and board yoself cheap. "But," says I, "how about larning? I ain't no scollard!" "Hump!" says he, "scollard indeed! Ain't collidges for the ignorant? Sar! a new cry has dawned upon this here State! Niggers is to be taught in the free schools, and such fellows as you are to be eddicated at the University, and have diplomys as big as enny bedtik. This institooshun, sur, are for the benefit of the Publikin party. The rebbles hev had it long enough, a little ov it with high larnt risty-crats. It is now open to the low and the ignorant, as we hev not sich men thar as will keep all you high-heeled big folks away. As times wunst was, when Raffin, an Graham, an Manly, was trustees, none but big men could be perfessors an presidents; but sense our glorious Constitooshun cum in, which declares one man jest as good as another, we have such men as Tourgee for trustees, and small men an carpet-baggers has thar rights. Jine collidge, sur, and git your sheer. Its for raddicles, and all good raddicles has a right to be thar. You kin graddyate in too year, another git license to plead law." Then he tuck me around and interjooced me to the faculty. But I hain't time to tell how I stood my examination an jined the June-year class. I'll tell that in my next letter, and I don't keer a confederick cuss whether you answer it or not.

Yourn respect,
BILLY BARLOW.

SUPREME COURT.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Supreme Court, Clerk's Office,
Raleigh, May 10th, 1869.

This tribunal, as heretofore announced, will commence its term on the first Monday (7th) of June next.

In the late announcement of the order in which the causes from the several Judicial districts would be called, by inadvertence, the Sixth district was placed in the week in which the Third will be called, and vice versa. As thus corrected, the causes will be called as follows:

First and Second Districts on the first week.

Fourth and Fifth Districts on the second week.

Third and Seventh Districts on the third week.

Eight and Ninth Districts on the fourth week.

Tenth and Eleventh Districts on the fifth week.

Twelfth and Sixth Districts on the sixth week.

As there will be no examination of applications to practice law, the causes from the First District will be called on the first day of the term.

For the information of applicants to practice law, who seem to prefer taking out license after an examination by the Supreme Court, it is deemed proper to state, that under the old law, it was made the duty of the Judges of the Supreme Court to examine applicants, and license could not otherwise issue. But, the recent Act, by necessary implication, repeals the old Act, —and the Justices of the Court, under its new organization, have no power in the premises; and should they examine an applicant and reject him, he could take out license, notwithstanding his rejection.—Hence, an examination by the Justices would be without authority and an idle form.

By order of the Court:
WM. H. BAGLEY, Clerk.

RUMORS.—We heard yesterday that there was some fluttering among the Radicals.—Col. Sinclair is in danger of being ousted from the Collector's place to which he had been recently appointed. Other removals are threatened. The leading carpet-bag*gers* are anxious to form an alliance with leading natives. President Bridgers of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad was recently approached by General Estes, and a formal proposition was made to him to combine with the more prominent carpet-bag gentry, but the President would not bite at the bait, telling Kilpatrick's Adjutant General that he would have nothing to do with the concern. Good for Bridgers! We give the rumors as they have come to us. We notice that several Radicals have been in the city within the last day or two, among them Galloway, the leader of the party. What's to pay?

We received the following letter to day. It speaks for itself. We prefer to publish the latter than to give the facts stated in our own language. We may comment upon it hereafter. The name of the writer we withhold, although he makes no such request:

KINSTON, N. C., May 10th, 1869.

Editor of Raleigh Sentinel—DEAR SIR: I beg that you insert in your columns what facts I set forth as having taken place yesterday, (the second Sabbath May 1869)

A chartered train from Newbern, North Carolina, arrived here about 2 o'clock, A. M., bringing an armed force of from 30 to 50 men, principally colored, supposed to be Wilkie Dennison & Co., light foot cavalry. After scouring our little village and guarding my store until 9 A. M. Our Sheriff, W. W. N. Hunter, of Lenoir county, in my absence, by intimidating my Clerk, forcibly entered my store in search of one G. W. Tillo*r*, finding nothing they retreated for Newbern about 11 A. M., carrying with them one Dr. Barttes*on*. Many other par*ties* were arrested but released upon bond &c., and threatening my arrest for being absent. Such is the condition of our unhappy county.

You will do me a kindness that will ever be appreciated by complying with my request. I am, yours in haste.

PERSONAL.—We learn that Col. Sinclair, Judge Brooks, Sleepy Downing and Galloway, the "leader of the party," are in our city. What is to pay? Something is on hand. Where the carcass is, there the—we might say buzzards, but we will not be disrespectful—there the feathered tribe gather.

REPORTED ENGAGEMENTS IN CUBA.—Havana, May 7.—The journals to-day publish accounts of several engagements between the troops under Count Valmareda and the Cuban forces. The Spaniards claim the victory.

Captain General Dulce, accompanied by a battalion of volunteers, visits Matanzas Sunday.

George Myers and Henry Black, colored, have been appointed messengers in the Post Office Department.

STATE NEWS.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD COMPANY.—A large meeting of the Stockholders and Directors of this Company was held in Fayetteville last Thursday, and much interest was manifested. A stock vote was called for on the question of locating the terminus of this road, and Greensboro, High Point and Salisbury each had its advocates. The vote of the State, cast by George A. Graham, Esq., decided the issue in favor of Salisbury.

The offices of Secretary and Treasurer were consolidated into one, and J. H. Davis, of Montgomery, was chosen to fill the position, thus leaving A. G. Thornton without a place.—Wil. Star.

ARRIVED.—The steamship Mary Sanford, Capt. Moore, arrived from New York yesterday, making the trip in 60 hours from wharf to wharf.

The Steamship Volunteer, Capt. Jones, also arrived, this being her third appearance at our port.—Wil. Journal.

APPRINTED.—Chas. Hibbard, Esq., has been appointed by the Governor of that State, Commissioner of Deeds for New York, in North Carolina.—Newbern Jour. of Com.

It will be seen by advertisement that "Fairview Female College" (formerly Mecklenburg College) in this City, is to be opened in September next, by Professor P. D. Harshar*.*—Char. Dem.

The address delivered by Dr. S. S. Satchwell, before the North Carolina Immigration Association, at its recent meeting in Goldsboro, is now in the hands of the printer, and will soon be in circulation.

EXCITEMENT IN KINSTON.—A rumor was spread through the city, last night, that Kinston was in a state of riot, growing out of the breaking open of the jail and the liberation of certain prisoners. It was also reported that the citizens of the town had armed themselves and were determined to shoot down all who attempted to take the prisoners again into custody. Various other reports were in circulation, but having no faith in their reliability, we refuse to give them.

Sheriff Dennison summoned a posse of forty men, last night—by telegraphic order of the Governor, we understand—and procuring a special train for Kinston, left the city at half past eleven o'clock. The posse consisted, exclusively as far as we could learn, of Northern men and negroes.

Mr. Smith, President of the N. C. Railroad, offers a reward of $100 for the detection of those who are in the habit of throwing stones into the passenger cars at Charlotte. We hope the offenders may be apprehended, for the guilty person or persons deserve the severest punishment for such mean conduct.—Char. Dem.

COTTON AND WHEAT.—We have heard a great deal of complaint recently about the blighting effect of the late frosts on wheat and cotton—cotton particularly has been seriously injured, and some fields of wheat which were far advanced in growth have been nearly ruined.

We learn that the farmers of Anson county are plowing up their wheat fields, the crop having been destroyed by hail on Wednesday night last.—Western Democrat.

DESTRUCTION OF WHEAT IN ANSON.—We are distressed to learn that the farmers of Anson county have found it necessary to plough up their wheat fields, one of the most disastrous hail storms ever experienced, having destroyed the wheat of that section Wednesday night. This is truly distressing, not only that the labor of so many months should be brought to nought, but that we should be afflicted by the loss of so much promised grain.—Wadesboro Argus.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Last week four calves, white grazing in the yard of Mr. R. A. Springs of York county, S. C., were attacked by a terrier, and in their efforts to avoid the dog, one of them fell into a well 45 feet deep, with six feet of water. Mr. S. was absent at the time, so Mrs. Springs had to send to the field for a man to exhume the calf; and strange to say, when it was drawn from the well, it was found alive unhurt.—Char. Times.

We are glad to learn that the firm of Messrs. Pierce, McCurdy & Co., Real Estate Agents, of this town, of which our towns men the Messrs. R. T. Fulghum and B. F. Whitfield are members, have formed a connection with the North Carolina Land Company, of Raleigh, which we trust may prove of mutual benefit to both companies as well as to this community.—Daily Messenger.

The people of Haywood are in about as good condition financially as the people of any other county in the State. So far as we have learned, only one Haywood man has taken the benefit of the Bankrupt Law, and he was forced into it by circumstances absolutely beyond his control. It is not every man who can say that.

Jackson county is in an equally flourishing condition.—Ash. News.

The case of the State against Stephen Hardy, indicted for the murder of Daniel Shaver, was tried last week. After a brief consultation the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter. The prisoner was sentenced to four months imprisonment in the county jail.—Salisbury North State.

NEGRO MAN DROWNED.—A negro man named Joe Green, was thrown into Trent river yesterday, by the capsizing of the canoe which he was paddling, and was instantly drowned. Various conjectures as to the cause of the mishap have been hazarded; but it seems to be the general opinion that Green was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

The body has not yet been recovered.—Newbern Jour. of Com.

FROST.—On Saturday morning the frost was so thick that a gentleman told us he raked up a ball of it as large as a small bird's egg. We learn that a good deal of cotton is killed and considerable damage done to other tender plants. This is really singular weather for this region of country.—Charlotte Times.

THE CHICKEN FIGHT.—The banters made by the Virginia party, in the chicken fight to come off here the first Wednesday in June, have been accepted by Mr. James Paulcon—to match chickens for any three fights $500 a fight.—Weldon News.

SEVERE COLD SNAP.—The severe cold snap of the last few days has, we fear, damaged the crops, as the cotton is just in that stage, whether up or still beneath the ground, that it can be seriously retarded.—Ib.

A French physician, it is stated, cures cataract without an operation. His process is to apply to the diseased eye a phosphurated collyrium, which gradually restores the transparency of the crystalline lens from the circumference to the centre, which is the last to yield. Thirty grammes of oil of sweet almonds and ten centigrammes of phosphorus are dissolved in a water bath at eighty degrees centigrade—one hundred and seventy-six degrees Fahrenheit—in a full and closed vessel. Four grammes of the solution should be instilled between the eyelids, three or four times a day, for several moths, or until the cure is completed.

It seems determined that the disfranchising clause in the Virginia Constitution soon will be submitted to a separate vote.

Shrewd Virginia politicians predict that under this plan, the Constitution will be defeated by an immense majority, as the test oath and county organization clauses are regarded equally odious, especially the county organization clause, which it is claimed will involve ruinous expense to the people of Virginia. It is considered certain that the election will occur on the first Tuesday in July.

It is stated as a prerequisite that the appointment to any office in the internal revenue office, will require a solemn oath to total abstinence from intoxicating drinks.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,673,999,49.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

CLEOPATRA DYING.

BY HERMINE.

Glorious victim of my magic!
Ruined by my potent spell,
From the world's imperial station,
Have I dragged thee down to Hell!
Fallen Chieftain! Unfettered Monarch!
Deaf through do ing love for me!
Fast, on shades of night eternal,
Wings my soul its flight to thee!

Cæsar shall not grace his triumph
With proud Egypt's captive Queen!
Soothed to sleep by aspic Kisses,
Soon my heart on thine shall lean:
Soon my life like Lotus blossoms,
Swift shall glide on Charon's stream:
Clasped once more in thy embraces,
Love shall prove an endless dream!

Iris! Chamian! Bind my tresses!
Place the crown above my brow!
Touch these hands and take these kisses—
Antiony reposes not now;
Gods! my lips breath the poisoned vapors!
They have struck my Cæsarian dead!
Foolish minion dare not proceed me,
Where my spirit's Lord has fled!

None shall meet his smile before me,
None within his arms repose;
Be his heart's impassioned fires,
Quenched upon my bosom's snows!
None shall share his burning kisses,
Ere I haste me to his side!
Octavia's tears may prove her widowed—
Cleopatra's still his bride!

See! My courage claims the title—
Closer press the aspic fangs,
Memories of his quickened touches
Sweeten now these deadly pangs!
Honor, manhood, glory a teaching,
All, be bartered for my smile,
Twined his heart-strings round my fingers
Vibrant to their touch the while.

Followed fast my silver rudder,
Fled from Cæsar's scornful eye,
Heeded not his bleeding honor,
Clad upon my breast to lie!
Then I snared him in my meshes,
Bound him with my wily art,
From the head of conquering legions,
Snatched him captive to my heart.

Wild his soul at my caresses!
Weak his soul at my command!
Rome, with fury, saw her mightiest
Bowed beneath a woman's hand!
Noblest of the noble Romans:
Greatest of the Emperors thee;
Then did fling away a kingdom—
Egypt gives herself to thee.

Sweet as balm. Most soft and gentle
Dralise the asp my failing breath;
Antony! My Lord! My Lover!
Stretch thine arms to me in death.
Guide me through these deepening shadows,
Faint my heart and weak my knees:
Glorious victim! Ruined hero!
Cleopatra dies for thee!

Wheeden's Excelsior Labor-Saving WASHING COMPOUND.
Patented Sept. 22, 1868.

REASONS FOR PREFERING THIS SOAP.

The Patentee claims for this Soap the following advantages which are clearly set forth in the Letters Patent, to-wit:

First, it can be manufactured at less than half the cost of any soap ever produced.

Secondly, it may be used successfully in any kind of water—cold or hot, hard or soft.

Thirdly, it so modifies the action of boiling water on woollen goods that their fibres do not contract under its influence, and your woollen garment is as large after boiling as before.

Fourth, it does not decompose the colors of goods, and your prints and stripes are as brilliant after washing as before.

Fifth, the goods do not require any rubbing or patent washing machine—all that is necessary is a few minutes boiling and a good rinsing.

LIFE INSURANCE.

NATIONAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,

$1,000,000,

PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so fuddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he looks into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up the paid up Capital of

NATIONAL

$1,000,000

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,582 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,905,550.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.03

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 402
By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 693
" New England Mutual, 343
" Phœnix Mutual, 335
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.
In its 10th year, 4,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,842 "
this latter being 660 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's Snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

WE inaugurated and are the Great through Inland Air Line Route to all the Northern Markets, and have successfully worked the Line to the entire satisfaction of shippers, North and South, for the last ten years, as the few Thousand shippers in North and South Carolina will testify. We paid the State near Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for her interest in this Road—thereby saving the people from Taxation for all time to come $40,000 per year; and we unhesitatingly declare that we can and will give more dispatch to all points, North and South, than any other Line.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC
CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housekeepers. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the state.
